Areas of Historic Guidelines to be considered:

Signs and Awnings

Construction of signs is subject to the City of Salisbury Sign Ordinance Chapter 17.216. Each sign is subject to review by the SHDC and recommendations are provided to the Department of Building, Permits & Inspections. Each sign will be reviewed for location, total sign area, size, height letters, and message.

The City's ordinance is explicit concerning types, sizes, and placement of signs. Flashing, moving, and swinging signs are prohibited, as are roof signs. Flood-lit signs are prohibited unless the lights are shielded from view. Obscene signs and those that resemble official traffic signs are also prohibited.

Guideline 44: Preserve Historic Signs

- a. Historic signs, such as those constructed directly into an architecture detail of the structure should be maintained, and may be restored if necessary.
- b. Wording changes on existing historic signs should be in keeping with the overall character of the sign and the structure on which it is placed.
- c. Restore or recreate historic signs where sufficient documentation exists, if the restored or recreated sign would be in compliance with Salisbury's zoning ordinance.

Guideline 45: Sign Placement

On most downtown buildings, a continuous brick ledge or corbelling is used to separate the second floor and above from the entry-level storefront below. This space is ideal for sign placement, as it was often created for this purpose. In some instances, newer buildings contain areas above the highest windows for signage.

- a. Signs must not obscure or hide significant historic features or details. This includes windows, cornices, and architectural trim.
- b. Projecting signs must be located no less than eight feet above the sidewalk.
- c. Signs should be mounted to historic masonry buildings through the mortar joint, rather than through masonry units wherever possible.
- d. Non-permanent painted or adhesive signs (for example, vinyl cling signs) may be installed on the interior of storefront windows or on the upper story windows of multi-story commercial buildings.
- e. Signs shall not be placed above the roof-line of any building in the Downtown Historic District, as per the zoning ordinance.
- f. Awning signs are permitted.

Evaluation Criteria:

Pursuant to Section 17.52.040 A & B of the Salisbury Zoning Code, it is the duty of the Historic District Commission to review all applications to construct, alter, reconstruct, move or demolish any structure within a Historic District whenever the exterior appearance of such structure is affected, and to approve or reject said application. In reviewing an application and plans, the Commission should give consideration to review criteria, and may make a determination as to which of said Criteria are applicable.

Wicomico Hotel
Salisbury
Private

1923

The old Wicomico Hotel, erected in 1923, is the largest structure defining the center business district of Salisbury. Rising seven stories on an excavated basement, the stretcher and common bond brick commercial block stands out on Salisbury's skyline as the tallest building and one of the city's most distinctive structures. Following in a repeated architectural format for early twentieth century high rise hotels, the red brick walls are accented with stone trimmings that divide the building in three parts, which correspond to the three main components of the classical column. The first floor, although altered, retains a heavy stone entablature that serves to highlight the base of the building and at the same time it symbolizes the column's plinth. The five stories above the first floor are the plainest, and they correspond to the column's shaft. The top floor, the most elaborately finished portion, represents the column capital with its heavy console block cornice. This architectural formula was repeated countless times in the design and construction of early high rises in small and large cities across the United States during the early twentieth century. Centrally located on the southwest corner of the main intersection in the city, the Wicomico Hotel was thought of as a progressive addition for city residents that signaled to the outside world that its move to an urban commercial center was secure and ever-improving.

The construction of a modern hotel in the center of Salisbury was discussed periodically during the early years of the twentieth century. It was felt by many city leaders that the future economic prosperity of Salisbury was dependent on the building of a modern hotel facility. The idea gained momentum during the early 1920s with the formation of the Wicomico Hotel Company. The executive and building committee included E. D. Mitchell, C. R. Disharoon, M. C. Evans, Ralph H. Grier, Henry H. Hanna, T. L. Ruark, and F. L. Wailes.

The executive and building committee reported to the public through an article in the Wicomico News that a study had been made to determine the acceptance of such an undertaking:

.....the time has arrived when Salisbury can not hold her town against the prosperity of other cities without this new modern hotel. As a result of this report thirty leading citizens of Salisbury have formed a corporation, with the kind of hotel best adapted to meet the growing needs of this favored community.

A proposed plan of the hotel was published in the paper as well, and the initial design, executed by architect B. K. Gibson of Chicago, called for a four-story, eight-bay by ten-bay structure of neoclassical style. Presumably the building committee decided that a big city architect from Chicago could supply Salisbury with a design better than any local talent. Public concerns soon surfaced in the paper that the building was not large enough to suit the needs of city. The land for the hotel had not been acquired so that a specific lot size had not been exactly determined. The land for the hotel was partitioned from the old Wailes homestead known as "Lakeside," which remained standing in the center of Salisbury until the mid 1950s. The Wailes sisters, Laura L. and Victoria, resided in the house at the time when they sold their front yard acreage to the hotel company. The construction plans for the hotel were ultimately changed to erect a seven-story structure, which allowed for parking on the east side of the building.

Prepare both a summary paragraph and a general description of the resource and its various elements as it exists today.

The old Wicomico Hotel, now known as One Plaza East, is a seven-story, ell-shaped brick office tower that stands on the southwest corner of the intersection of South Division and East Main Streets in the center of Salisbury, Wicomico County, Maryland. The building is currently oriented to face west with the principal gable roof oriented on a north/south axis.

Built in 1923, the seven-story, six-bay by ten-bay brick hotel was erected in a combination of pressed brick stretcher bond along the principal street elevations and seven-to-ten course common bond on the rear, side, walls away from the streets. The top of the building is defined by a heavy classical cornice that disguises a medium pitched gable roof. The building is flanked by alleys on the south and east sides.

The ten-bay west (main) elevation has been altered on the first floor with large glass display windows and a central entrance to an inner lobby. The East Main Street facade retains a few classical pilasters that flank large glass storefront windows. The pilasters rise to a stone entablature that stretches around the west side as well. Above the store entablature are five stories marked by replacement windows of stretcher bond walls and no ornamentation above the windows. The top floor, however, is embellished with a wide stone beltcourse that stretches around the East Main and South Division Street elevations under the seventh story windows. The beltcourse serves as a heavy sill to the windows, which are framed by stone surrounds with an arched header. Within each arch above the windows is relief carving. On the South Main Street side a cluster of three windows have a bulbous turned balustrade that marks the bottom of each window opening. The top of the wall surface on both street elevations is capped by a heavy stone cornice defined by a series of bold console brackets. The fronts of each console are embellished with acanthus leaf carving. The cornice turns the corner on the southwest and northeast sides but is terminated within several feet of the wall.

The south end of the building is a common bond wall with replacement windows on each floor. A metal fire escape rises against the exterior. A tripartite set of arched windows pierces the seventh floor. The top of the wall surface is finished with a stepped parapet capped with a terra cotta coping.

A 1950s single-story garage has been added to east side, and an elevator tower rises in the center of the building. The south and east inner walls are defined by rows of replacement windows. The windows on the seventh floor have round arched assembled in double rowlock rows. The top of the parapet wall is capped with a terra cotta coping.

The interior has been reworked to suit modern offices on the first floor. The upper floors were not seen.

The building deserves listing in Category A, which identifies a building that must be retained since it exhibits many good architectural features and contributes strongly to the historic nature of the district. The Wicomico Hotel is historically significant as a prominent fixture in the center of Salisbury since 1923.
